Ionic colloidal silver is a completely natural, liquid trace mineral supplement. The term * 'Colloid' refers to a substance that consists of fine particles suspended within a liquid solution. * 'Ionic' refers to an atom that is carrying at a net electrical charge. Because of this, the body has to employ much less energy in order to absorb minerals in their ionic state.

Thus, our 'Ionic Colloidal Silver' consists of sub-microscopic particles of silver, held in suspension in ultra-purified water and carries a tiny electrical charge which enables it to easily interact with the body.

Ionic Colloidal Silver is considered to be one of the most powerful natural immunity helping substance and is widely used as a mineral supplement to support your body's immune system and to assist natural healing and detoxification. Externally, silver is known for its exceptional antiseptic and healing properties for skin conditions.
